COVID-19 MEMORIAL: Remembering those lost during the pandemic, and honoring essential workers

During October, we gathered for our COVID-19 Memorial. Artists, musicians and neighbors joined together at Farm Fresh Rhode Island and offered their thoughts and prayers as they remembered loved ones lost and the dedication of essential workers during the pandemic. Advocates recommend that $500M in ARPA funds be used for housing

INCREASE & PRESERVE

...the supply of safe, healthy, affordable homes throughout Rhode Island.

We joined with others in the Rhode Island housing advocacy community to request that $500 million in funding provided by the American Rescue Plan Act be used “to address the State’s urgent housing needs.”

State offers mini grants to educate public about environmental hazards

The Rhode Island Department of Health (RIDOH) is offering mini-grants of up to $4,950 each to eligible entities to support and expand upon Environmental Health Risk Assessment Program's efforts to engage with and educate communities on the impact environmental hazards have on public health.

The goals of the grant are to investigate the public health implications of hazardous chemicals in the environment, educate affected communities and stakeholders about these implications, and proactively manage risks by exploring innovative solutions.

The deadline for application submission: Friday Nov. 5, 2021, at 4:00 pm.
